Howard Miller, purchasing agent, got back from a Minnesota fishing trip without one fish he himself caught, although Mrs. Miller, fishing alongside of him, yanked in a number and another fishing companion caught one hundred big ones. Whenever Howard angled the fish dozed.

Ray Peterson Peoria, guest superintendent, got back from Stockton with Mrs. Peterson and their family—Leonard, Glenn and Betty Rae.

Haven't heard yet from Stockton, but assume that Howard Peterson is wearing Ray's shoes there by this time.

For the new plant dedication services, Bob Bullock's printing department turned out 2000 copies of last week's regular edition of NOW, 13,000 copies of a "Caterpillar" edition, and around 40,000 copies of a special edition for door-to-door distribution; also 1000 window cards, several press releases and letters. Our Stockton reporter advises that it was Jack Stone and not Jack Groom who won the gold medal for pistol shooting at Sacramento a few weeks ago. Jack Stone got a medal, too, but it wasn't gold.

M. E. "Cap" Miller was high in July sales, J. V. Collins second, G. S. McKenty third.

Newsless item: The De Molay's took the Le Tourneau soft ball aggregation last week. All in favor of trying to forget the whole sad season say, Aye.

Salesman Wendell Phillips is house-hunting in Richmond Virginia, headquarters for his territory. In about a month he is to combine his vacation with a honeymoon, accompanied by a young lady from Idaho.

RAY'S ACT—SEE—DONT'S

Stack steel carefully, block it so it stands straight and firm and it can be readily picked up. Be sure blocking doesn't protrude beyond the sides of the pile and so interfere with picking up the next pile.

In lifting Bulldozers and Angledozers be sure to use the proper length of chain and to fasten it so it cannot slip, cause a serious accident.

Safety Glasses must be worn always on the eyes, not in the pocket.

Speaker For Plant Dedication

Dr. R. R. Brown, former shop worker, pastor-evangelist of Omaha Gospel Tabernacle, radio minister of WOW, outstanding young people's leader, is to be the speaker during the week of dedication services in the new plant, Sunday, August 30, through Friday, September 4.

Most U. S. Prisoners Leave Jail On Parole

Of some 60,000 men and women released from American prisons each year, most of them go out on parole, freed ahead of the termination of their sentences. But if they violate that parole, they are subject to return to prison to serve out their full terms.

Literary Digest currently discusses the debate between expert penologists, as disclosed by the Journal of Criminal Law and Criminology, on the best system of scoring candidates for parole, so as to determine what prisoners are most likely to "go straight" and who are most apt to violate their parole and land back in prison.

It is a popular belief that when a sinner is loosed from the bonds of sin and the prison house of Satan and freed from the law through faith in the Lord Jesus Christ he is merely paroled. That is, if he doesn't "go straight," if he doesn't "do his part," he will land back in his former unregenerate, lost state.

But there is no Scriptural authority for this assumption. God does not deal in paroles. No one is released on trial. None is freed temporarily, to go straight if he can. The sinner who comes by faith to the Lord Jesus Christ receives a full and unconditional pardon. He also receives that which no prison parole board can give its parolees—a new nature. When the Lord Jesus Christ told Nicodemus "Ye must be born again," He was speaking literally, not figuratively. The pardoned sinner becomes in sober fact, "a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new."

If in God's plan of salvation there were a probationary condition, an excellent time and place for expounding it would have been when the Philippian jailor, terrified by the earthquake that loosed all his prisoners' chains and opened the jail doors, sprang in before his preacher-prisoners, Paul and Silas, and cried trembling, "Sirs, what must I do to be saved?"

He would understand paroles. That would have been the time for Paul to say, "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, go straight, don't violate the law, do the best you can, and thou shalt be saved." But Paul didn't. He dispensed with 11 of those 22 words and simply said, "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved."

There is not a single Scripture directing the sinner to the Saviour that even suggests that salvation is probationary. On the contrary, all declare or imply that it is full, free and eternal.

Take John 3:16, called the Gospel in a nutshell: "For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

Take John 5:24, spoken by the Lord Jesus Christ: "Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that heareth My word, and believeth on Him that sent Me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation; but is passed from death unto life."

Take Romans 10:9: "If thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised Him from the dead, thou shalt be saved."

Take any other Gospel Scripture. All preach eternal, not temporary, salvation. The prison parolee is liable to return because his name and an incompletely paid judgment still stand on the prison books. But the Lord Jesus Christ, crucified the just for the unjust on Calvary's cross, paid the full penalty, left not one iota unpaid. Just before He released His spirit, He cried, "IT IS FINISHED." Those whose penalty He paid are freed forever. More than that, they are justified.

"Who can bring anything to the charge of God's elect? It is God that justifieth. Who is he that condemneth?" Romans 8:33, 34.

Build Welded Pulpit For Plant Dedication

A welded steel pulpit with an alarm clock in it (just to tell the time, says R. G.), 3000 seats designed and built in our own plant, no collections, a shop men's chorus, a shop quartette, an electric organ in a factory—these are a few of the unique features of a new plant dedication program which is itself unique.

The service designed to dedicate the new plant, to launch the week of evangelistic and revival meetings, starts at 3 p.m. Sunday, preceded by an organ recital beginning at 2:45 p.m. This is to be a mass meeting in which many churches of Peoria will participate, as they will also in the Sunday evening meeting at 7:30. In between these two services is a young people's session at 6:15 p.m., to which all young folks of Peoria and vicinity are invited.

Dr. R. R. Brown of Omaha, radio minister of WOW, is to be the speaker at all sessions, with the possible exception of the young people's service.

Monday and Wednesday night he is to give illustrated travelogues on his trip to Ecuador. Other special features for Tuesday and Thursday will be announced from the platform. Plans are afoot for a mass meeting Friday afternoon in one of the Peoria churches, as the Friday evening service is the final one of the campaign.

In keeping with the high calibre of Dr. Brown's messages will be the high quality of vocal and instrumental music throughout the week. Our own King's Messengers Quartette, in much demand over a wide territory, will be on the job. The Shop Men's Chorus gives promise of excellent singing. Talent is available for other vocal and instrumental numbers. Each service is to be preceded by a ten-minute organ recital.

Ira Gerig, of Cleveland, Ohio, famed as an evangelistic organist and pianist, is expected for the entire week. His organ and piano recitals preceding each service are bound to strike a popular chord.

Each week night the shop is to be closed at 7:30 p.m. for the period of the service to permit the night crew to attend in a body.

Young Folks Meeting Booked For Sunday

The average age of workers at the Le Tourneau Peoria plant is 22 years. So it is quite fitting that the opening day of the week of services dedicating the new addition should have one session specifically for young people.

Bill Retts, employed in the Angle-dozor department between semesters at Wheaton College, and who alternates with Norm Dirks in the quartette, is to be the leader for the young people's meeting at 6:15 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 30.

Details of the program for this service, which was suggested by Mrs. R. G. Le Tourneau, have not yet been worked out, but an outstanding feature of it will be testimonies by young people working in the plant. Theme of these testimonies will be "Christ, A Reality To Youth." Singing by the quartette and other special music will help make the hour interesting, enjoyable, profitable.

Every young man and woman in the shop and office should plan on attending this service and bringing as many friends as possible.

Safety Day Is Now

The week just closing has been designated as National Safety Week, its purpose being to reduce accidents.

God has designated an international Safety Day, a period during which all Who accept the Lord Jesus Christ as their Saviour will be Safe for time and eternity.

"Now," He says, "Is the Day of Salvation."

"Today if ye will hear His voice, harden not your hearts."

"Boast not thyself of tomorrow, for thou knowest not what a day may bring forth."
